

The Learned Representation

Original space allows to:

- plot input data,
- visualize separation boundaries for the first as well as subsequent layers.

Hidden space \mathcal{H} allows to:

- to linearly separate the classes.
- ... but is it good for anything else?